W. E. B. Du Bois Speaks: 1890-1919, with a tribute by M. L. King, Jr Mar 18 2020

Levels in Speech Communication Feb 15 2020 This volume celebrates Max Wajskop's vision of the multi-faceted nature of speech communication. The papers, individually and collectively a manifestation of the interdisciplinary study approach advocated by Max Wajskop, consider his inspiring attempts to integrate traditional and modern tools of analysis. They further his belief that a cross-fertilization of ideas from the largely isolationist domains of linguistics, psychology, communication engineering and language teaching, afford a discovery of many common principles in the overall pursuit of an understanding of the basic structure and behaviour of speech. synthesis as well as automatic speech recognition and phonetic and phonological modelling. The methodological approaches applied - mathematical, psychological, statistical and philological - cover every aspect of the speech chain: the glottis, vocal tract, speech wave (time and frequency), ear and brain. Furthermore, all the primary levels of language are represented: syntax, lexicon, phonology and phonetics.

Excerpt from Speech of Hon. James M. Ashley, of Ohio, Delivered in the House of Representatives, January 17, 1861: The Union of the States; The Majority Must Govern; It Is Treason to Secede; Millions for Defense, Not One Cent for Tribute! Just so with this crisis to a great extent. Three-fourths of it is the baldest pretense. There are only a few leading men who at heart favor it, and those who do have put a ball in motion which, unless soon checked they will be unable to control or even direct, and, like the authors of the French revolution, they will, in all human probability, be among its first victims. The Tip of Your Tongue Dec 19 2022 There are no words to fully describe the heartbreak of losing the ability to communicate. Only those who have experienced this loss can give us a look inside such silence. In The Tip of Your Tongue: A Speech Therapist's Tribute to the Power of Communication Lost and Found, the author has given a voice to thirteen people whose communication abilities have been compromised by stroke, illness, head injury or conditions such as cleft palate, stuttering or deafness. Multilingualism is highlighted as a potential liability. Some regained lost abilities, others will continue to live with impairments for the rest of their lives. Others continue to improve with time, effort and further speech therapy. From the heart, these thirteen people open up to share their experiences and feelings surrounding their communication difficulties. The author prefaces each interview with a non-clinical, informal account of her experiences with each communication disorder as a fellow communicator first, and a speech therapist second. At some point, each of us has communicated with someone whose speech, hearing and/or language abilities are impaired. This book offers awareness of such difficulties, and ideas to enhance communication interactions with anyone who struggles. If you are one who struggles, this book offers further insight and hopefully a connection with those who truly understand. If you are blessed with "normal" communication, you are offered the opportunity to be more grateful for one of the most amazing abilities possessed by humans.

Abraham Lincoln; the Tribute of a Century, 1809-1909 Mar 30 2021

The Perfect Tribute Dec 07 2021 'The Perfect Tribute' is a short story written by Mary Raymond Shipman Andrews, and is also her best known work. It is about the past U.S. president, Abraham Lincoln, depicting him as writing and delivering the Gettysburg Address, then concluding his speech was an utter failure. Later, he comforts a Confederate Captain as he dies in a prison hospital, and the Captain, who does not recognize him, praises the Address as "one of the great speeches in history". The wildly popular story was assigned reading for multiple generations of school children in the United States and may be the most popular book ever published about Lincoln.
